ABOUT

THE 'WHY' - LET'S SOLVE A PROBLEM

Research shows that companies that invest in their people

- > improves workplace culture
- > increases productivity and engagement
- > rebuilds and strengthens relationships
- > reduces personal leave costs
- > improves employee retention

These last several years, we all have had to change the way we conduct business, the way we think and communicate. Working from home, being physically away from colleagues and becoming somewhat isolated, secluded and detached.

Reconnecting, re-engaging, bringing your workplace team back together has never been so important - and not to mention it has also been very challenging.

Culture and people are now at the forefront of many employers minds. The need for support, someone who can make the these social sessions happen consistently. To enable the rebuilding of trust and friendships amongst team mates, to help create an emotionally healthier and productive work environment and culture.

Coach Kristen from Team McLean Fitness Club enables this, through our inclusive health and fitness team bonding wellness sessions and 10 week programs; for all ages, abilities and fitness levels.

ABOUT THE 'HOW' - OUR SOLUTION

What ever the activity or the message is – it needs to be consistent and have open communication. There is no point if is only once or twice a year. Consistency will embed the feeling of being valued and enable it to become a culture.

We prescribe a monthly or quarterly team bonding wellness sessions and/or a 10 week program regime.

This can include :

- > Strong or sweat sessions - circuits, boxing and HIIT
- > 'Silent disco' style headphones fitness circuits
- > Mat Pilates, stretching and core stability exercises
- > Stress relief and mindful meditation - guided breathing
- > Hiking day trips or walking sessions
- > Activities, challenges and competitions
- > Fitness session then socialising with food and drinks
- > Weekend retreats, incorporating Yoga, Naturopathy, massage, cooking classes and more!
